From the desk of the Principal...

Do you want to help your child get in the habit of writing? Try making it a regular part of his/her life. Whether you have only a little time or a lot of time, here are some ways to fit writing into both of your schedules.

- ◆ Enjoy writing on-the-go. Carry a small notebook and pencil, and let your child see you use it to make a to-do list or grocery list. Has your child been invited to a birthday party? Suggest that he/she make a list of gift ideas on the way to the store. He/she can draw pictures and write the first letters of the words if he or she is not spelling yet.
- ◆ Start a family journal. Keep a pad of paper in a convenient place. You could write about the weather getting colder and the amount of snow expected, or your child might report (in words or pictures) that the family pet learned a new trick. At the end of the week, read aloud together from the journal.
- ◆ Write a recipe. After making supper together, you and your child can write down the steps it took to prepare your meal. (Your child might also like to make up a silly recipe, too!)

Whatever activity you choose, enjoy the time you are sharing with your child!
